

Our monthly newsletter for an optimal
VISION - PLANNING - GUIDANCE of your family wealth

September 2015

Officially, it's still summer but in reality, the summer break has come to an end. We are back in great shape and hope you are too. We are starting the season by announcing the launch of a new service which will facilitate communications between us:
WebEx.

As you know, we have always integrated technology in our practice to ensure you get the best possible service: newsletter, news thread and managing your account online are some of the options that we already offer. With WebEx, we are entering the era of interactive dialog.

In the same way that you use Skype to stay in touch with your family and friends, you can now use WebEx to connect with us, spontaneously and safely. Easy to use, WebEx will enable you to:

- have a conversation with us, with or without an appointment, wherever you are, from a computer or a mobile device;
- stay connected with us, even when you are traveling or down South for the winter;
- meet us in videoconference mode, which is significantly more user-friendly than a simple phone call.

WebEx won't replace our face-to-face meetings, it is another unique way to deliver on our promise of "Simplifying the lives of our clients".

7 HABITS THAT CAN MAKE YOUR MIND SHARPER AND STRONGER

I wrote this blog post about work, but I think a lot of it is generally applicable to life. Enjoy!

Being mentally strong at work is critical to your success. How you build that mental muscle, though, is often something that people don't think about a lot while at work. So I thought a post might help.

Here are 7 ways you can be mentally strong at work...
